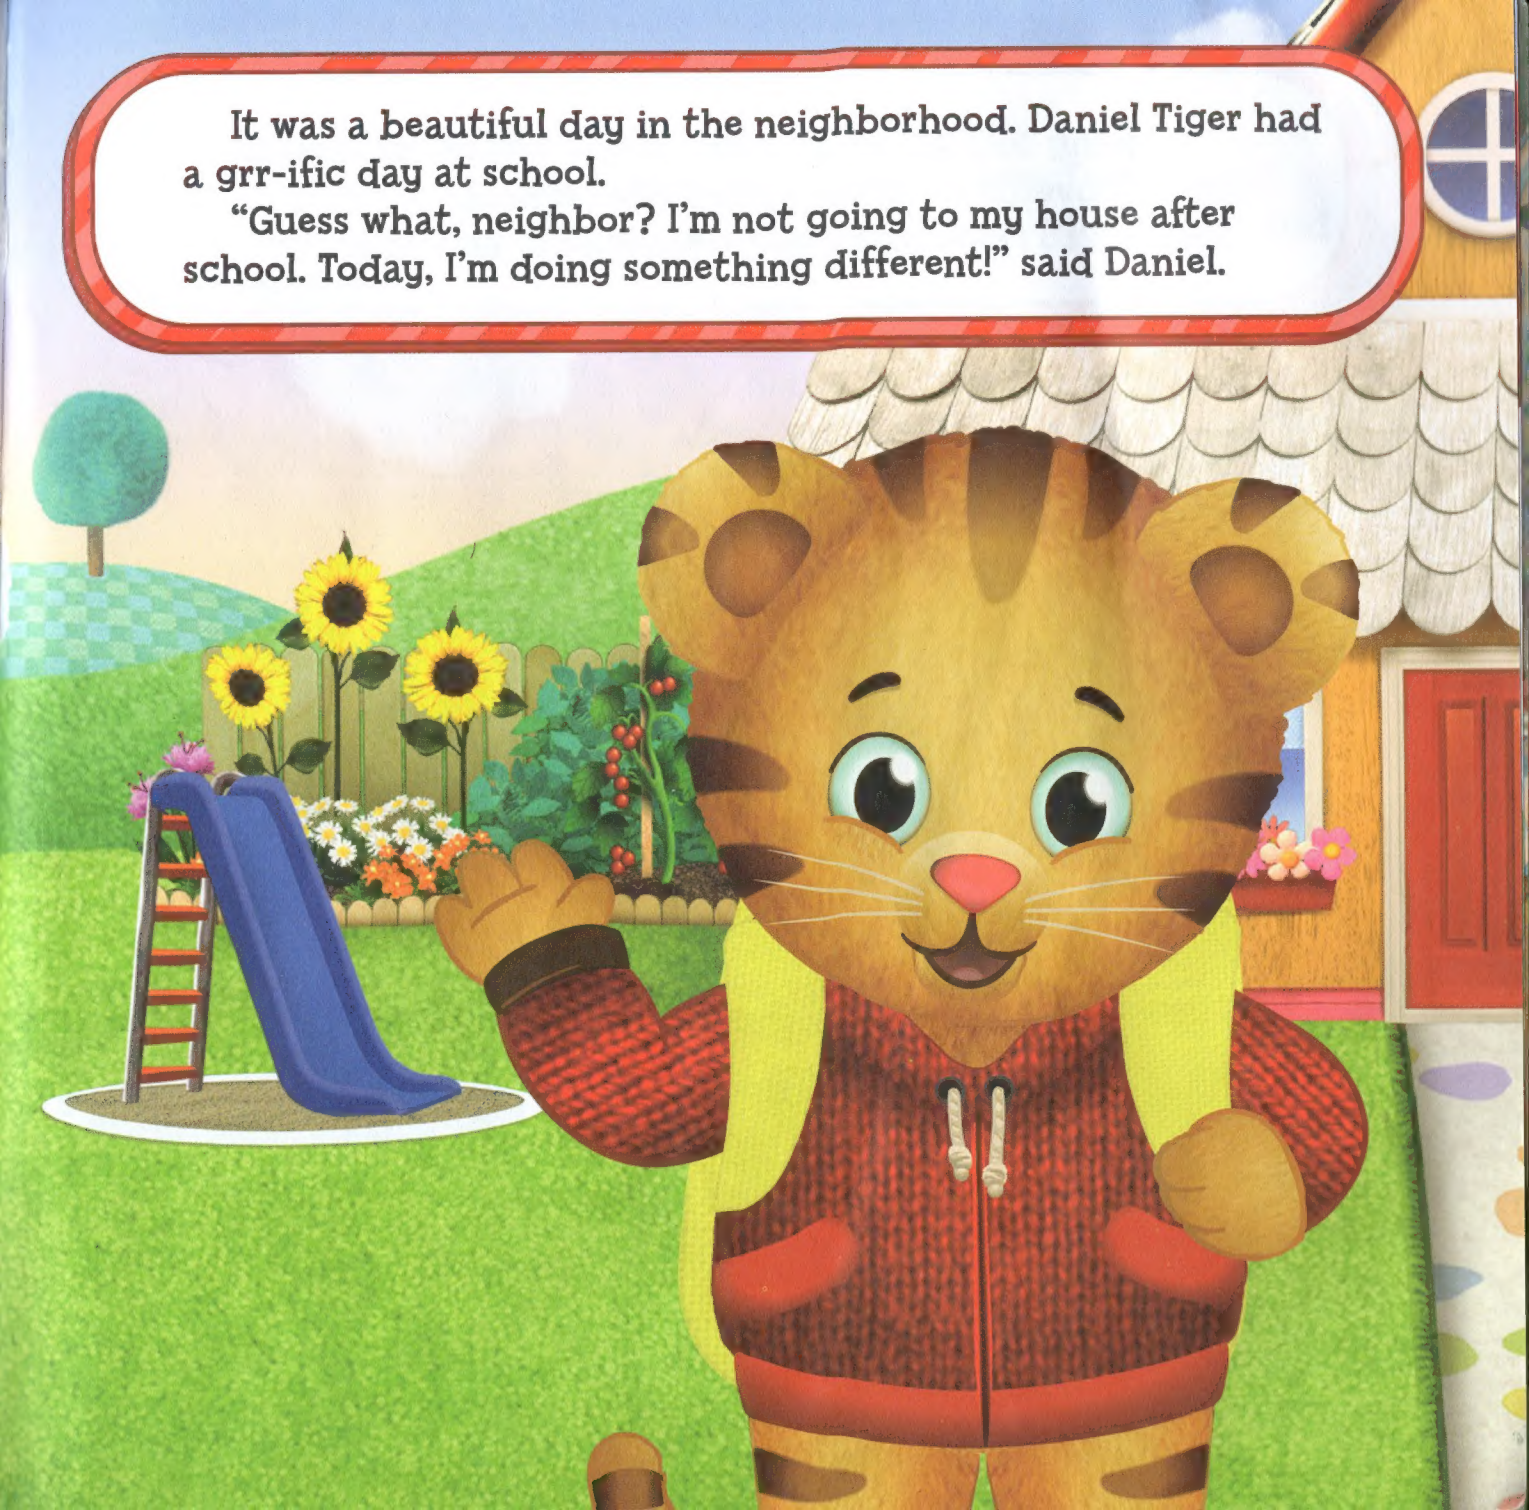
It was a beautiful day in the neighborhood. Daniel Tiger had a grr-ific day at school.

"Guess what, neighbor? I'm not going to my house after school. Today, I'm doing something different!" said Daniel.



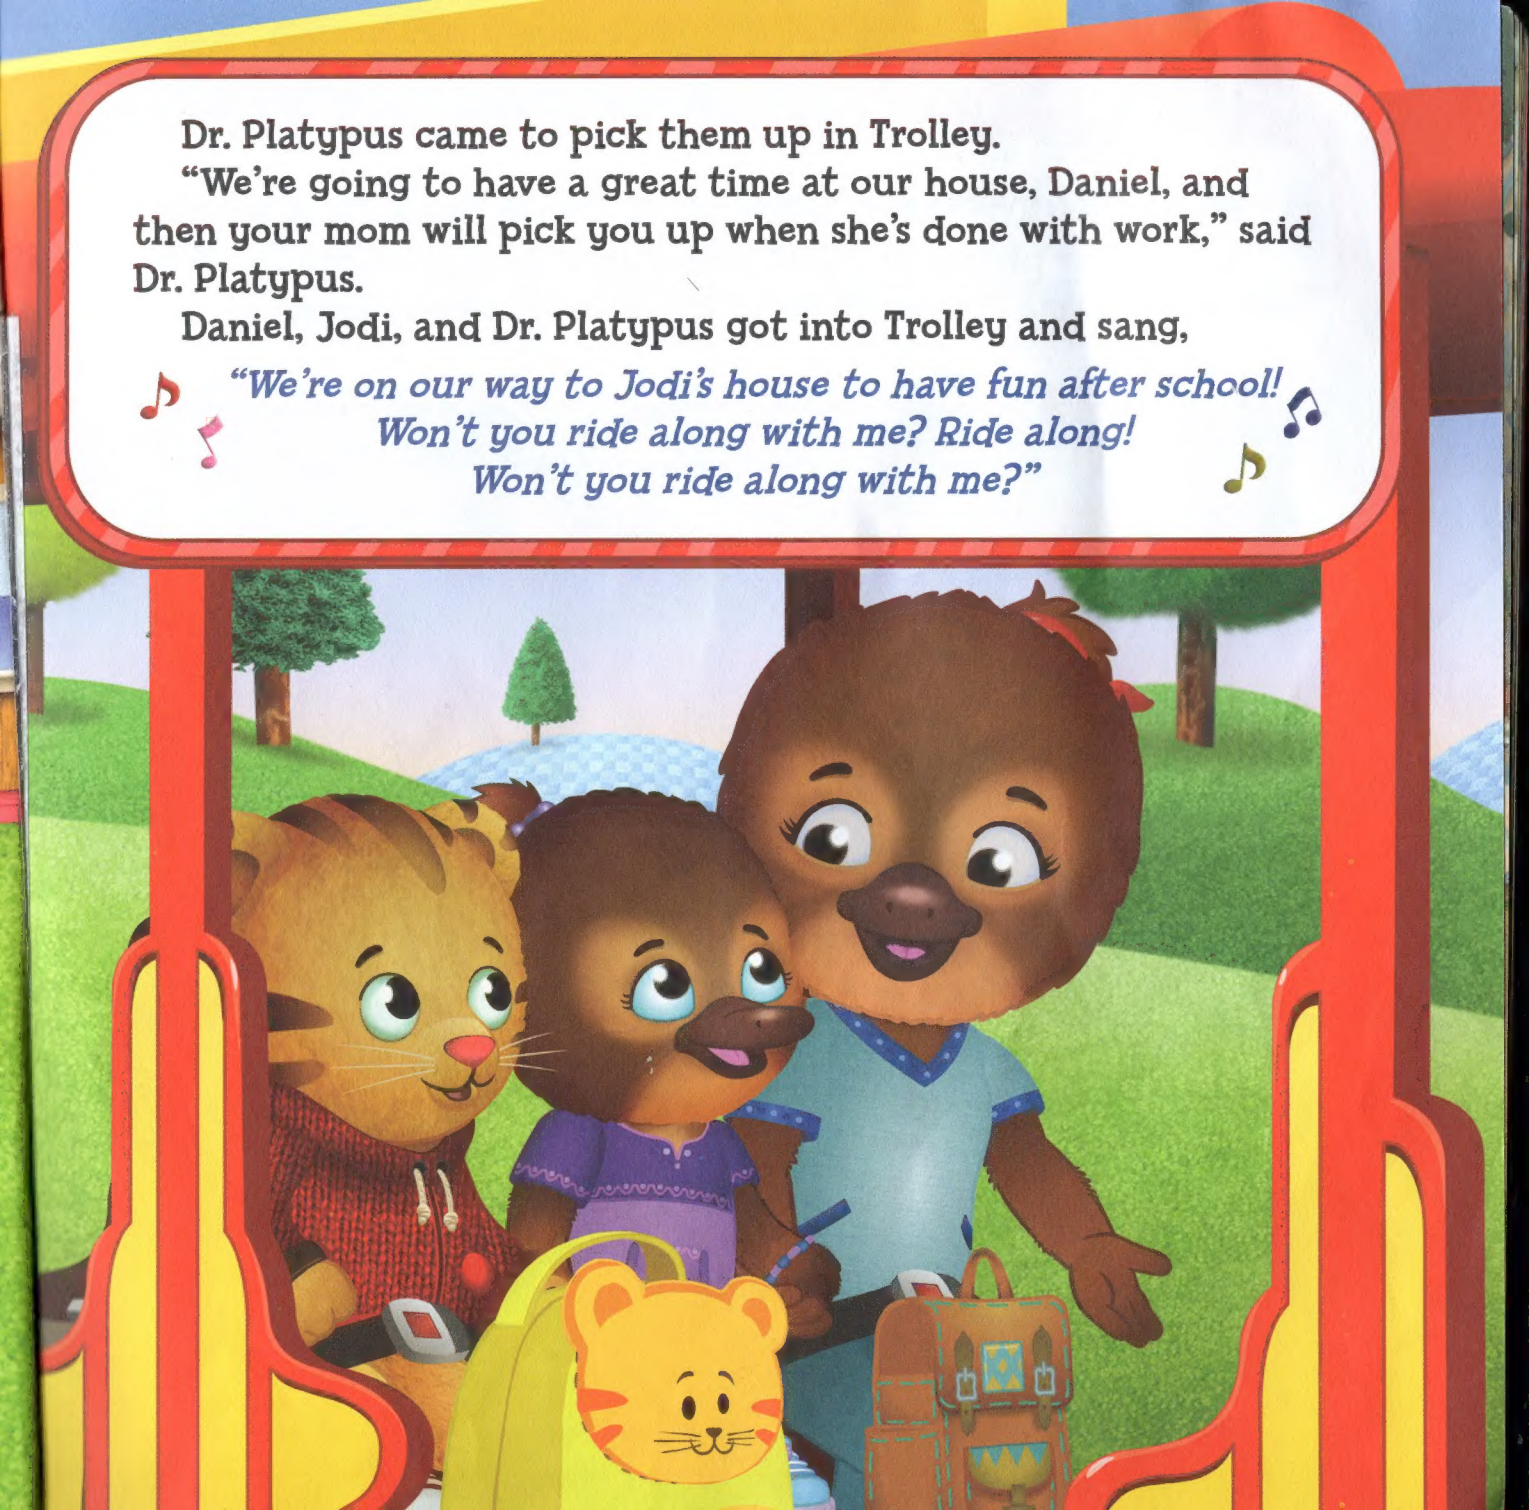
"I'm going to play at my friend Jodi's house!" said Daniel.
Daniel loved having playdates after school.
"We get to ride Trolley home together!" said Jodi.

Dr. Platypus came to pick them up in Trolley.

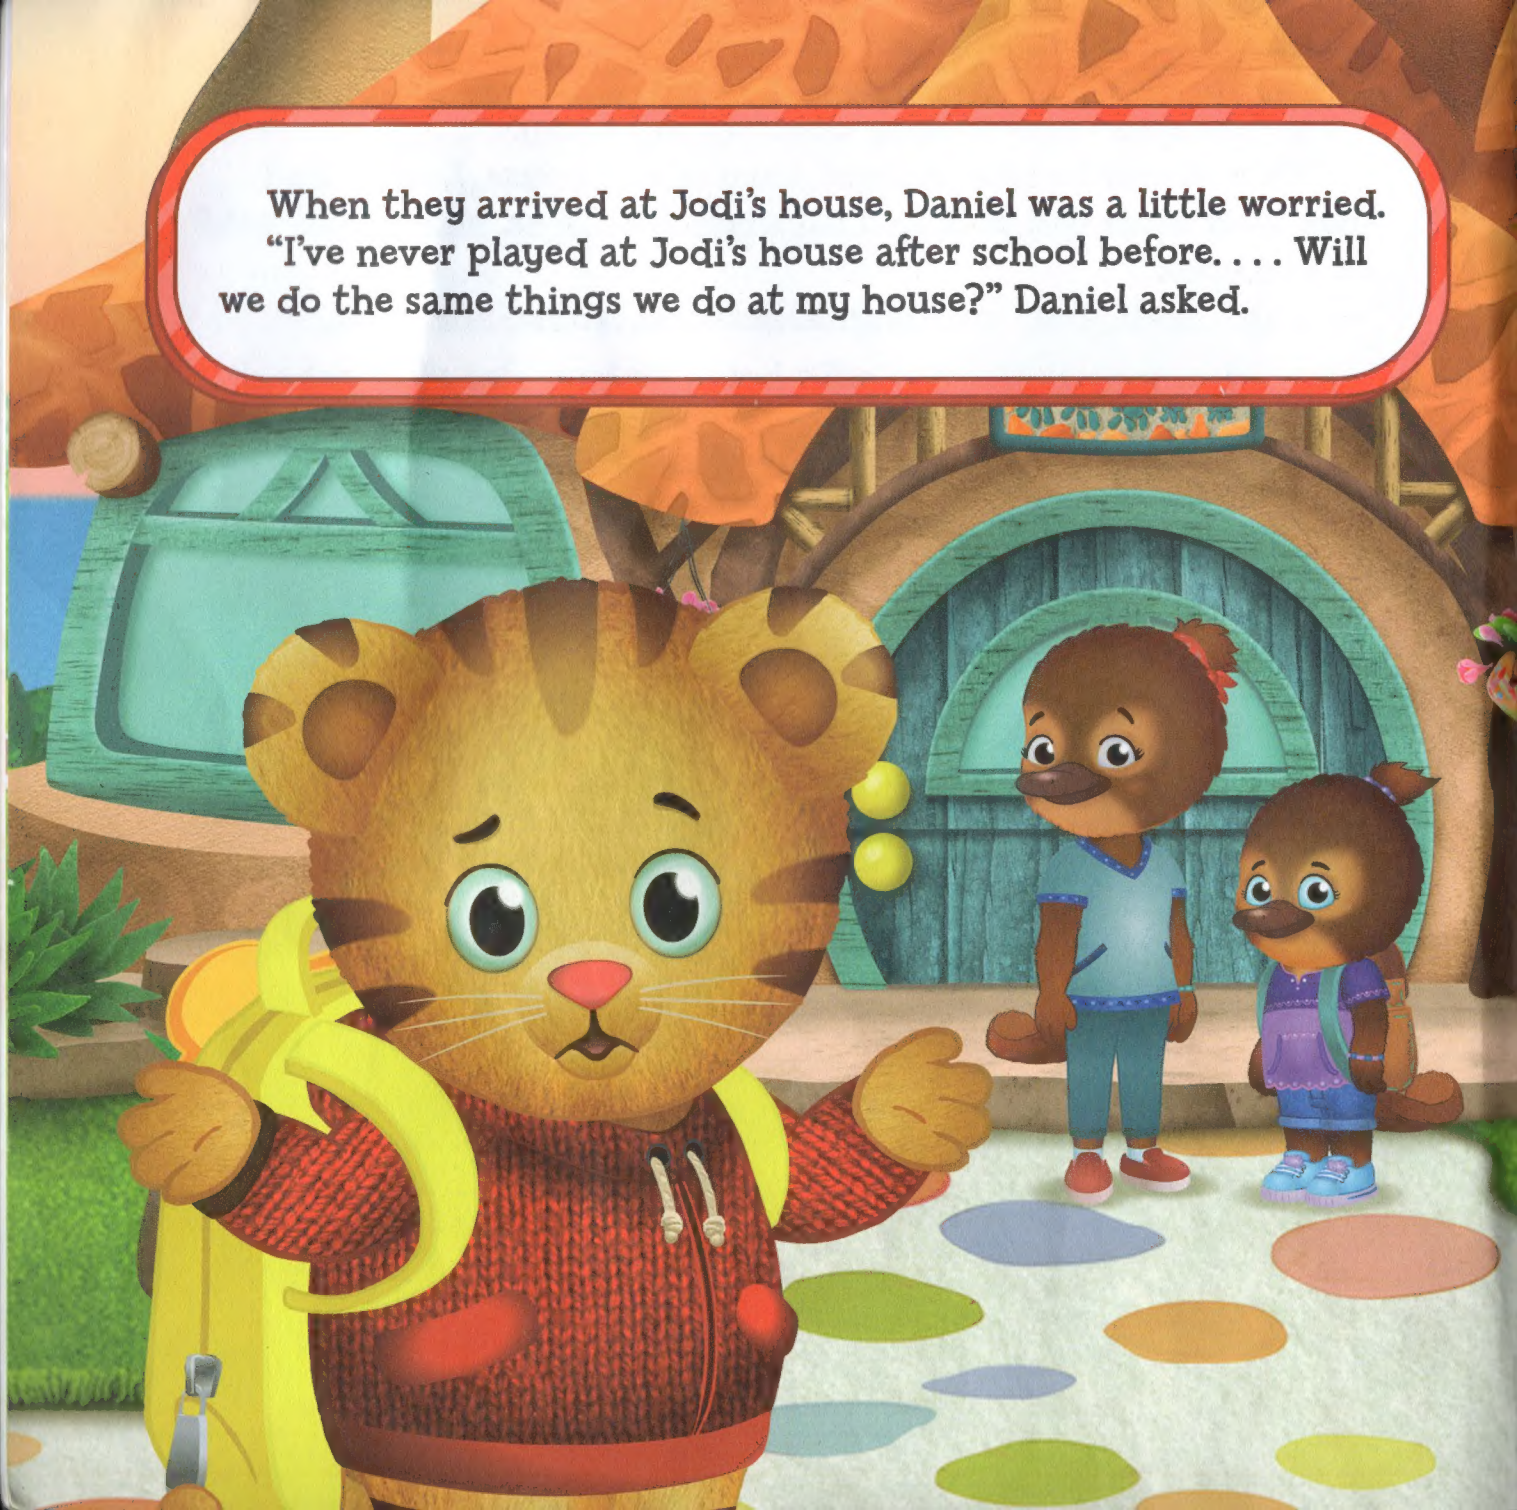
"We're going to have a great time at our house, Daniel, and then your mom will pick you up when she's done with work," said Dr. Platypus.

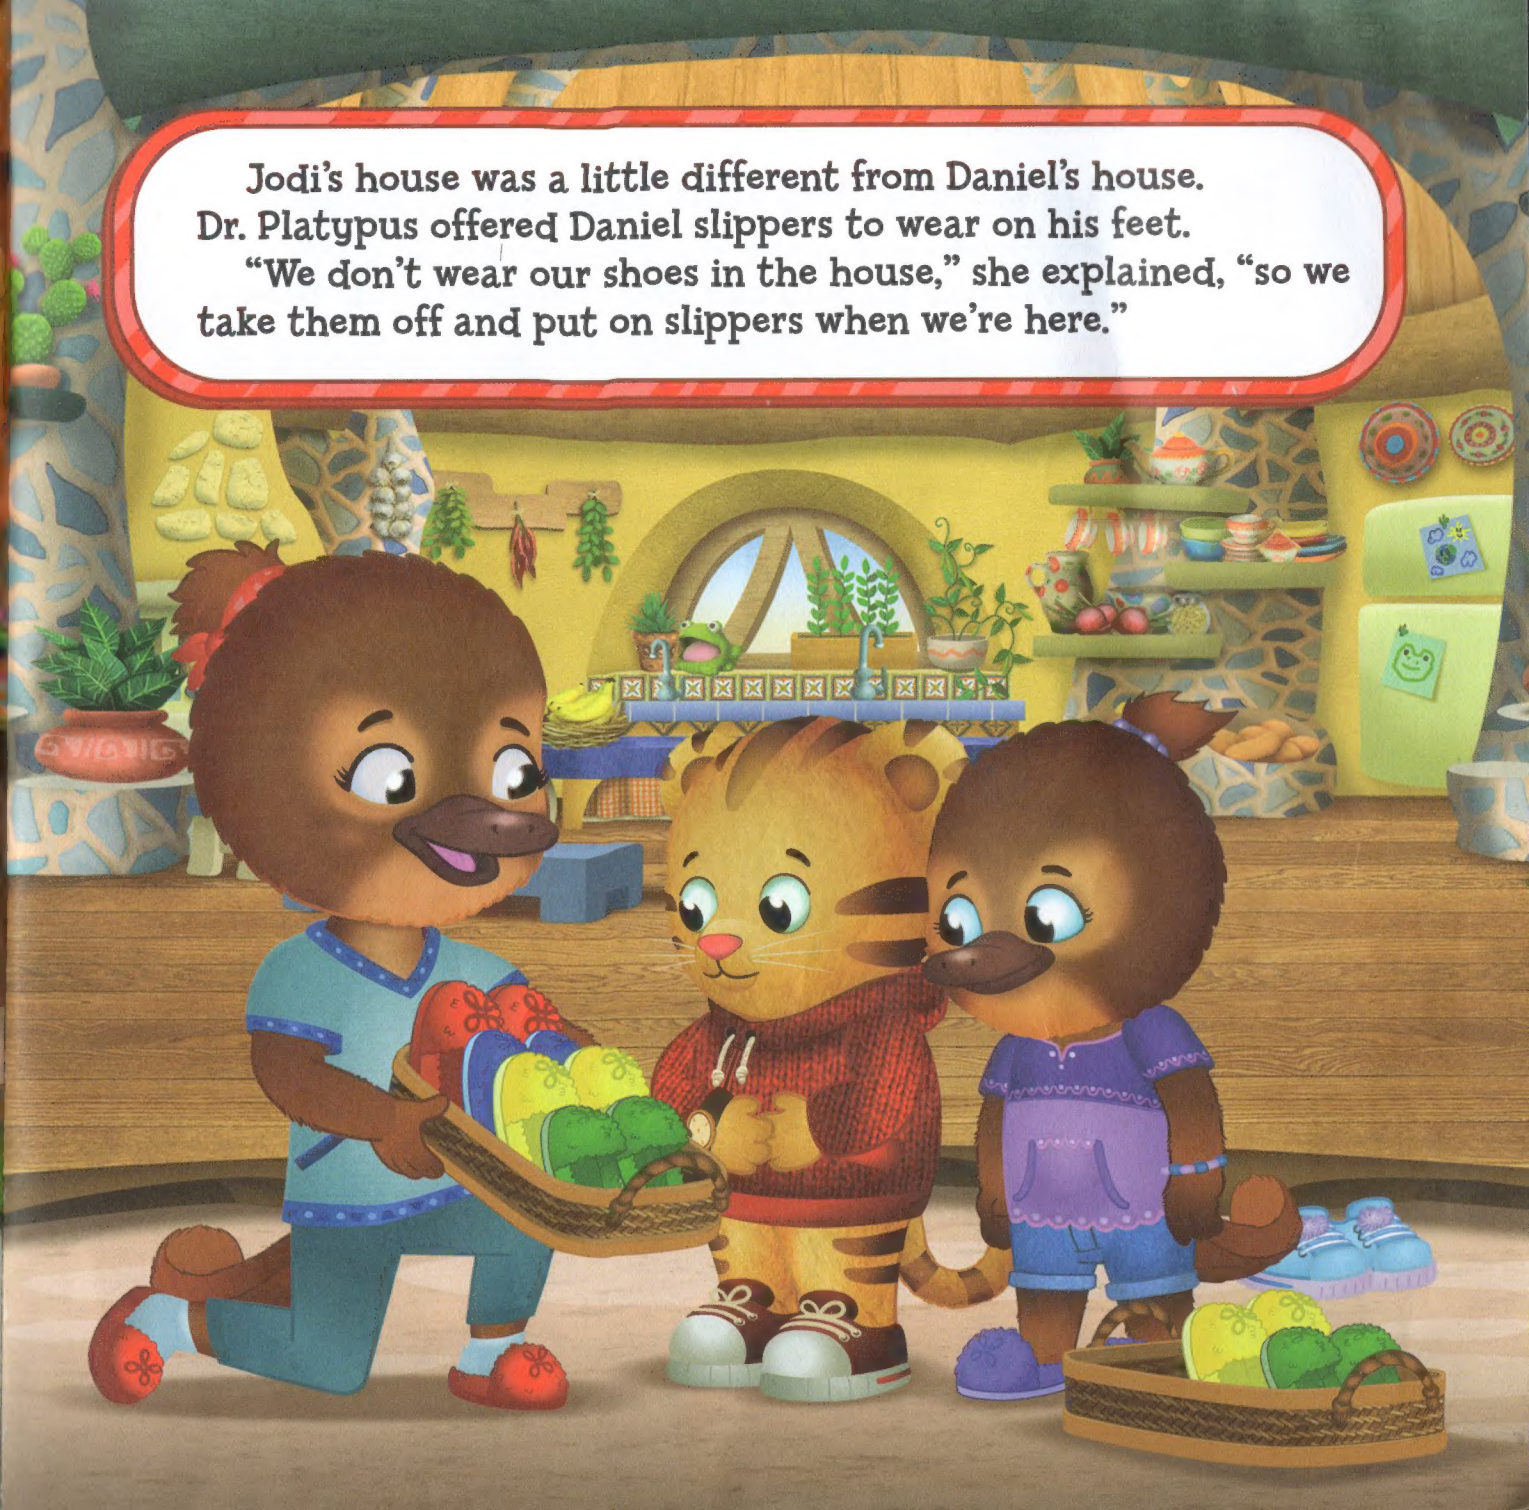
Daniel, Jodi, and Dr. Platypus got into Trolley and sang,

"We're on our way to Jodi's house to have fun after school!
Won't you ride along with me? Ride along!
Won't you ride along with me?"



When they arrived at Jodi's house, Daniel was a little worried. "I've never played at Jodi's house after school before. . . . Will we do the same things we do at my house?" Daniel asked.





Jodi's house was a little different from Daniel's house. Dr. Platypus offered Daniel slippers to wear on his feet.

"We don't wear our shoes in the house," she explained, "so we take them off and put on slippers when we're here."

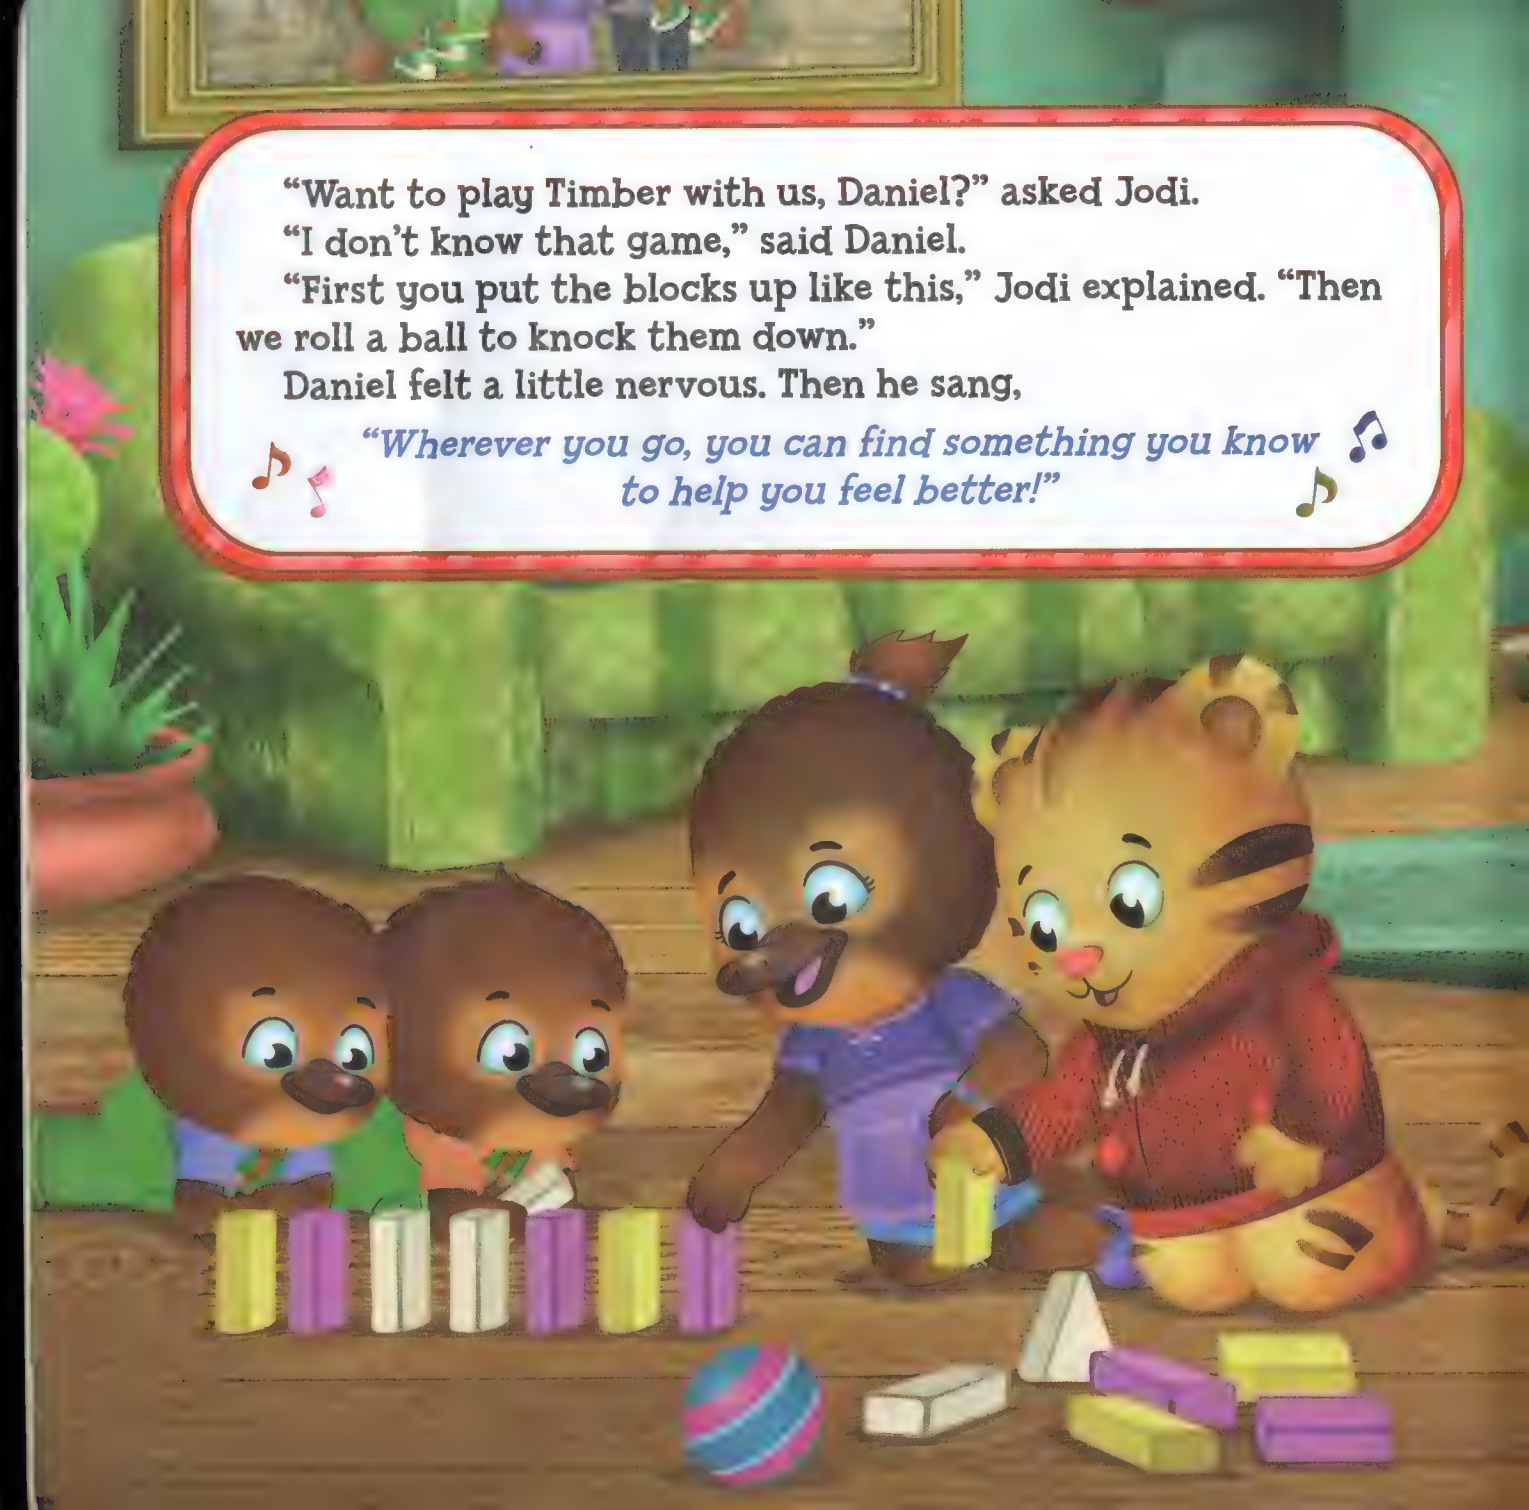
Daniel was nervous. He didn't wear slippers at his house. Dr. Platypus sang,

"Wherever you go, you can find something you know to help you feel better!"

Daniel found red slippers, just like his red sweater and Trolley! That made him feel a little bit better.

"They're fuzzy-wuzzy!" Jodi said.

Daniel was excited to play with Jodi and her brothers.
They all danced in their fuzzy-wuzzy slippers!



"Want to play Timber with us, Daniel?" asked Jodi.

"I don't know that game," said Daniel.

"First you put the blocks up like this," Jodi explained. "Then we roll a ball to knock them down."

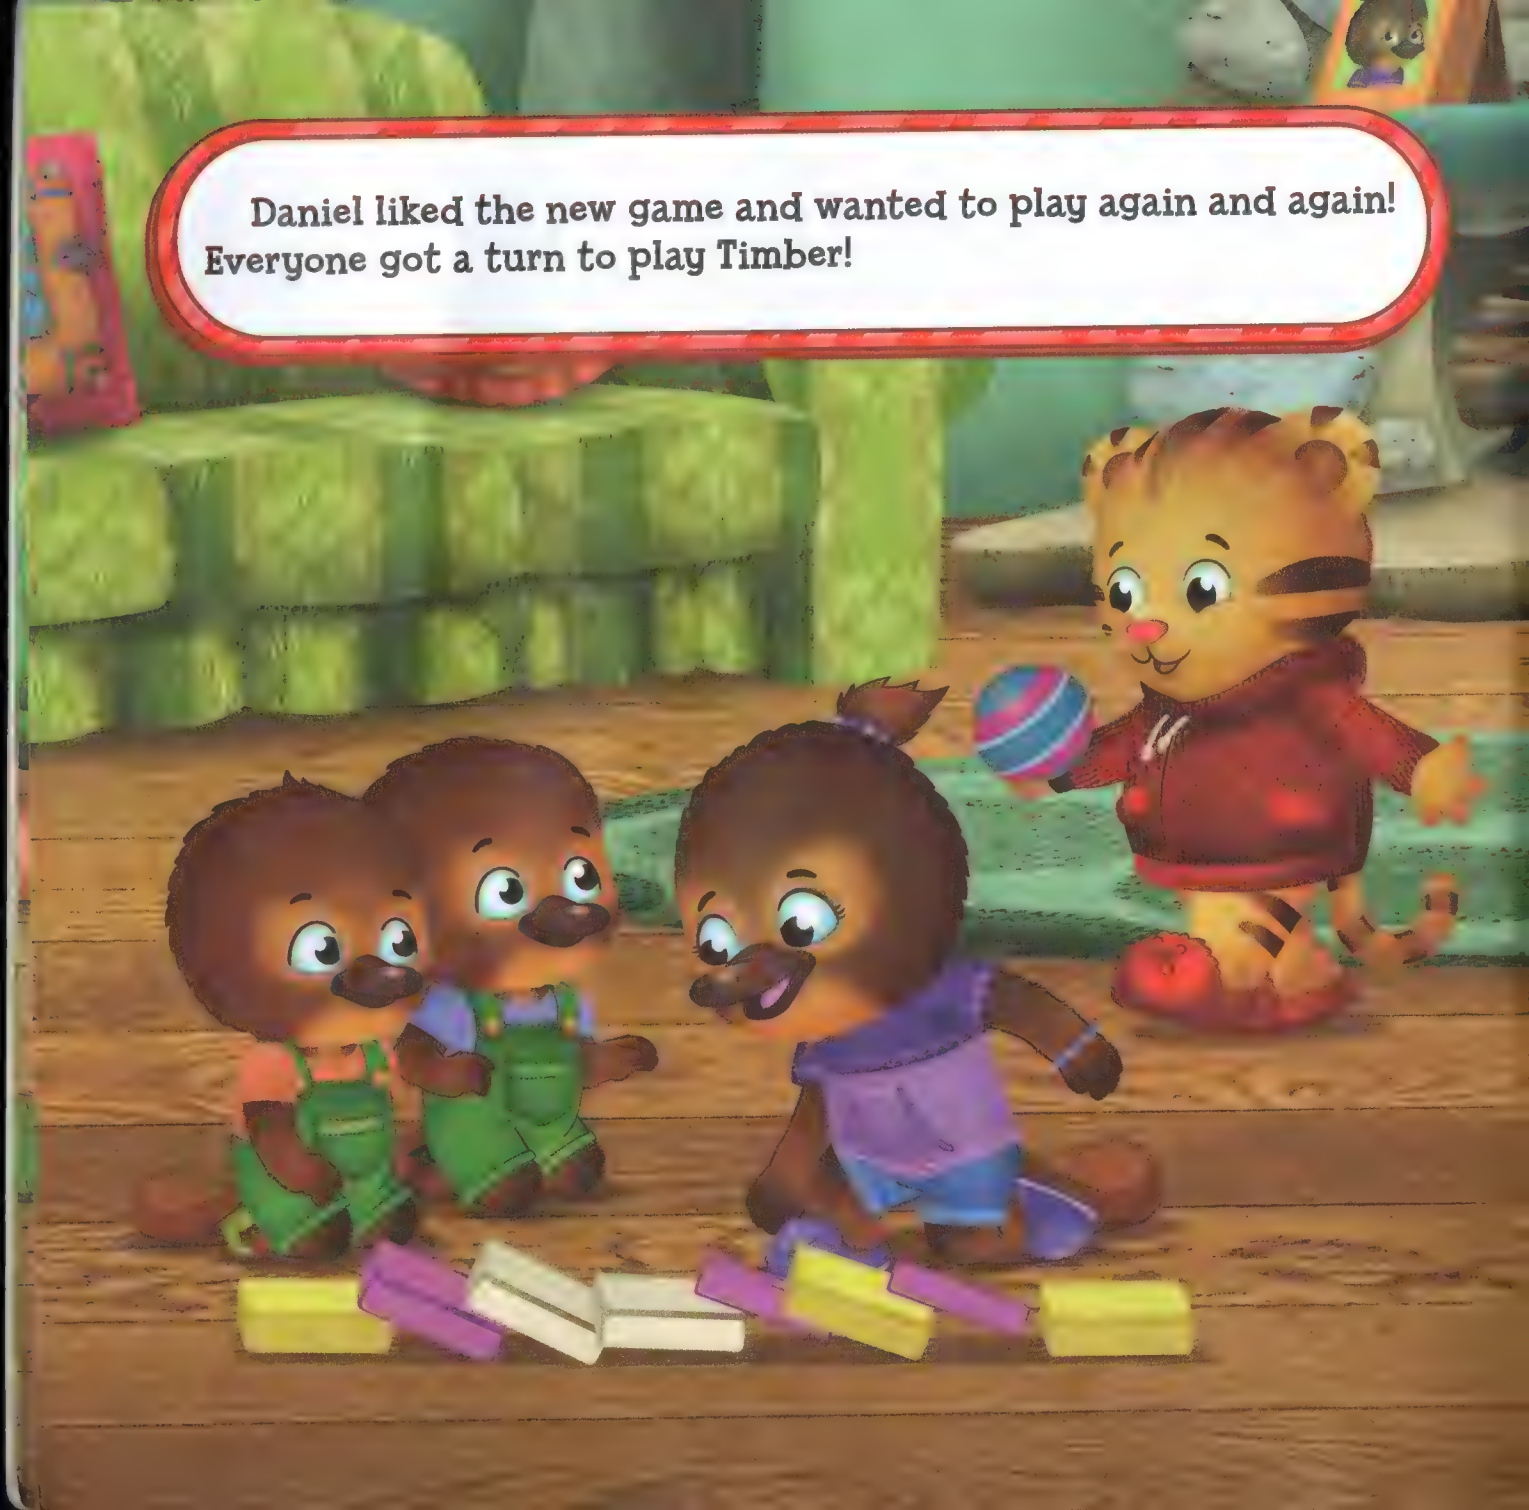
Daniel felt a little nervous. Then he sang,

"Wherever you go, you can find something you know to help you feel better!"

Daniel looked around and found a bouncy ball. It was just like the one he had at home!

"Oh, good! You found the Timber ball!" said Jodi. "Now, roll it over here and try to knock down these blocks."

Daniel rolled the ball toward the blocks, and everyone shouted, "Timber!"

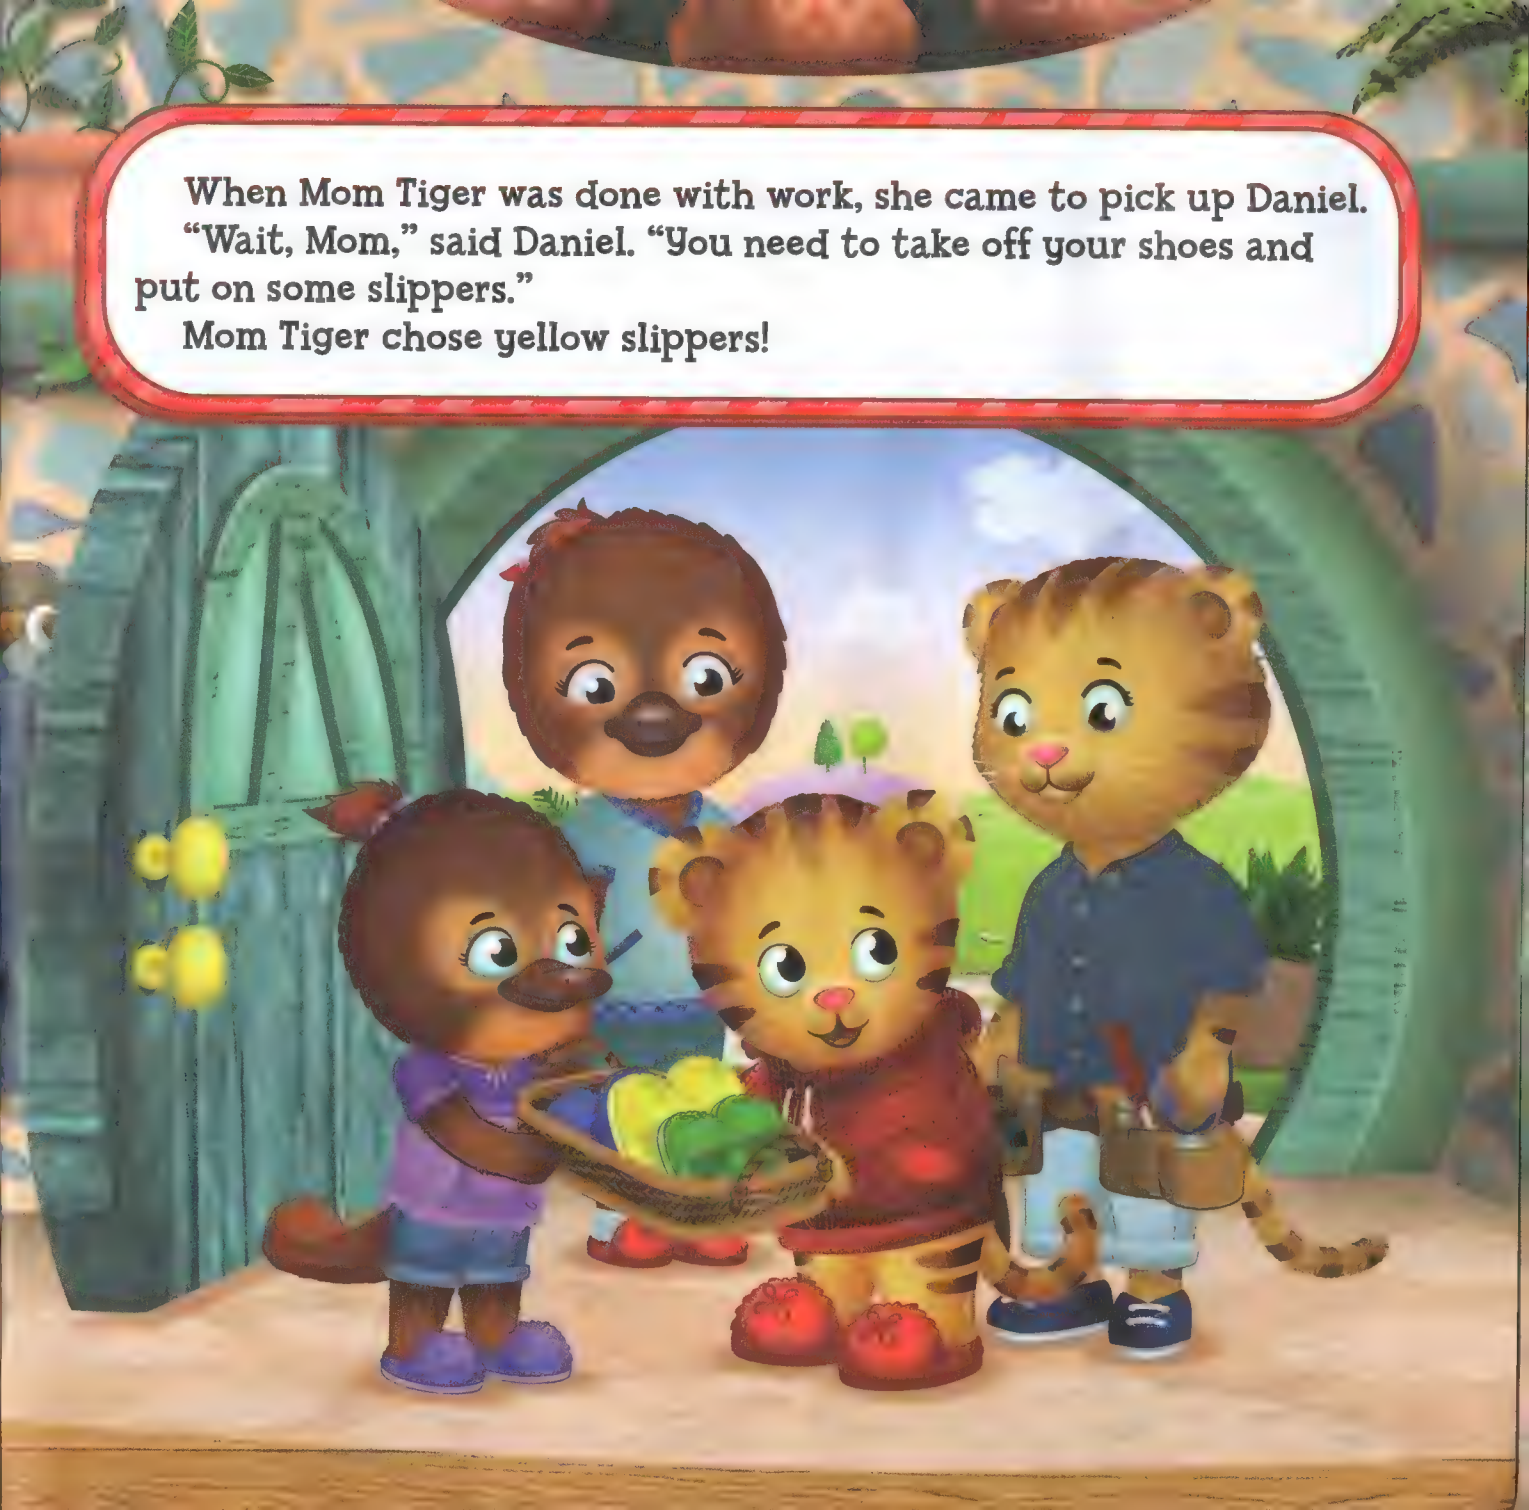


Daniel liked the new game and wanted to play again and again! Everyone got a turn to play Timber!

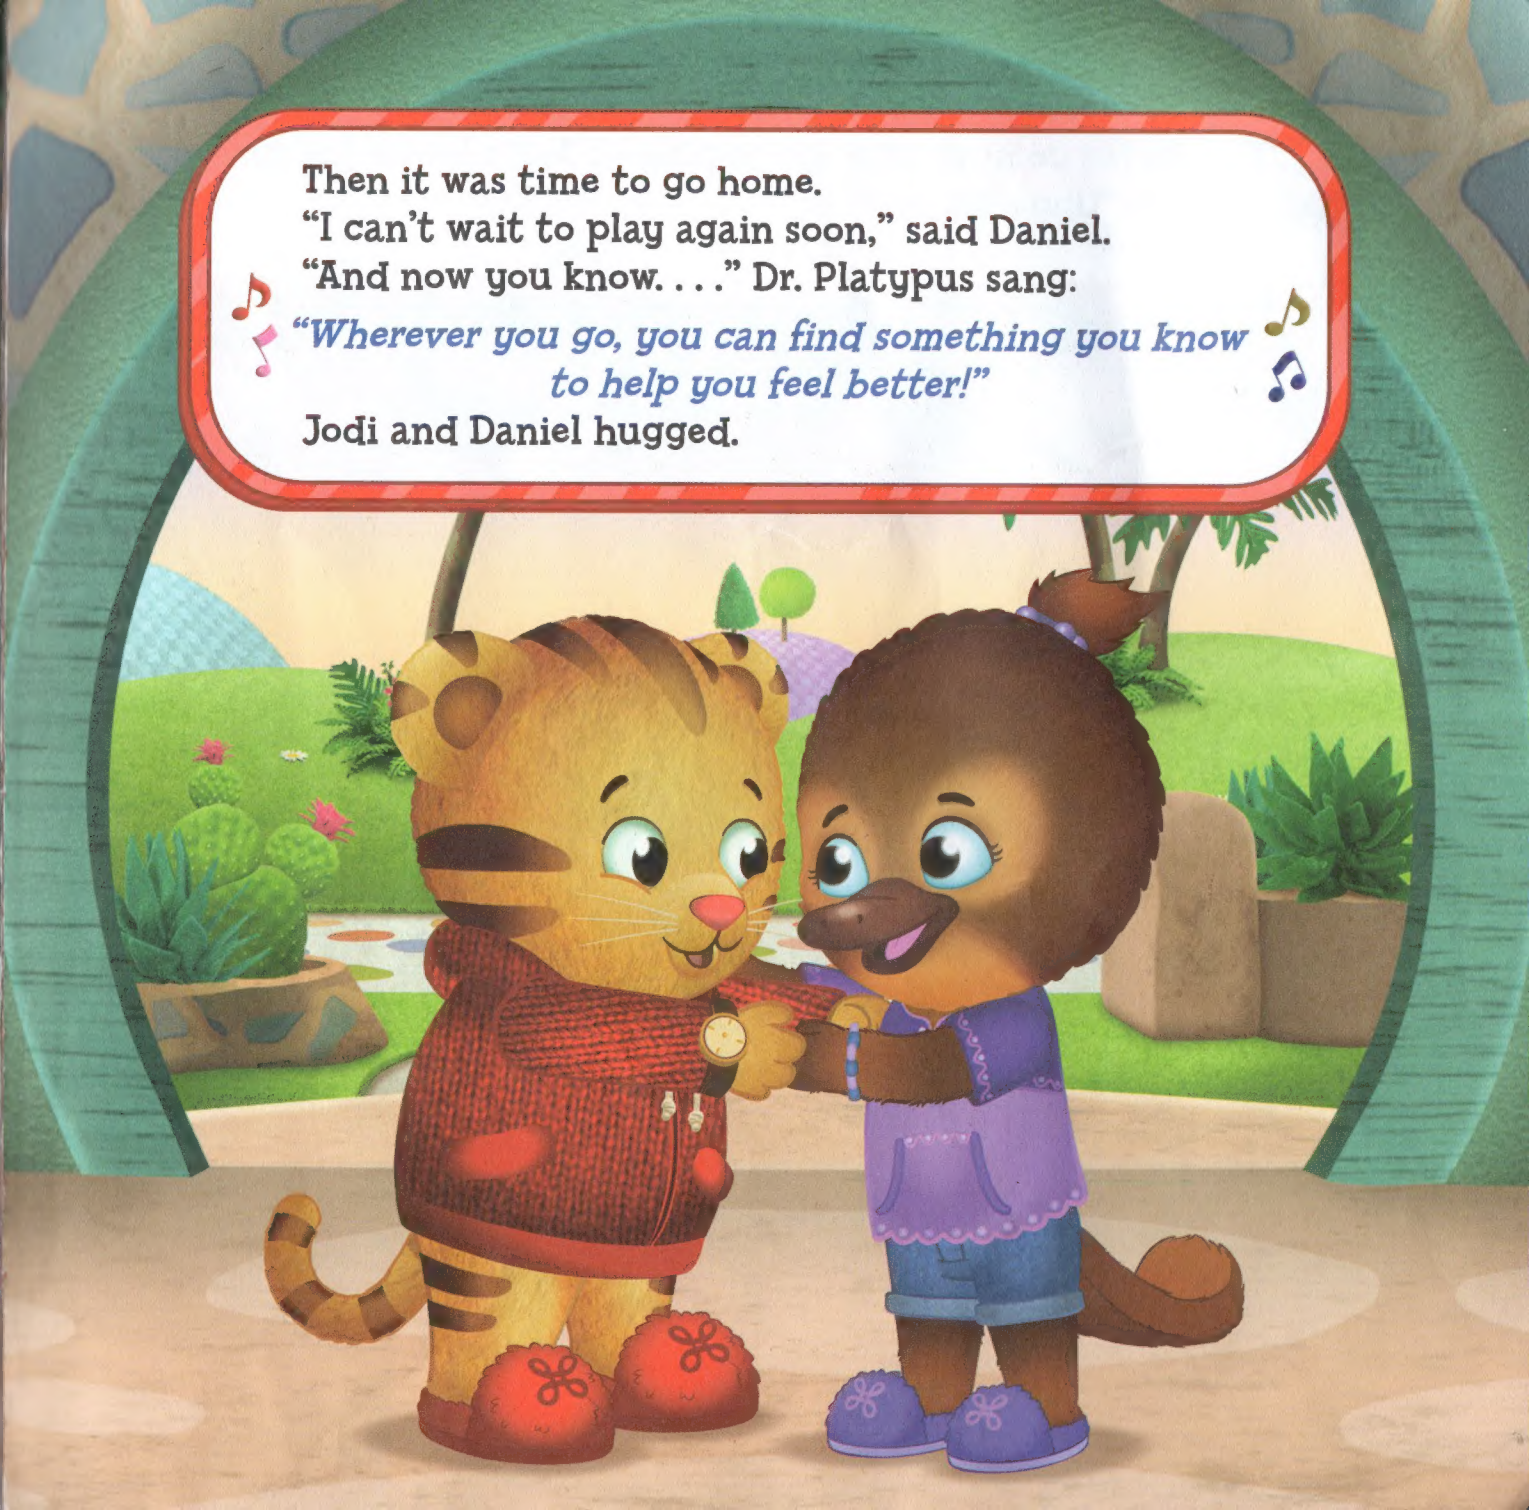
When Mom Tiger was done with work, she came to pick up Daniel.

"Wait, Mom," said Daniel. "You need to take off your shoes and put on some slippers."

Mom Tiger chose yellow slippers!



Daniel and Jodi played a little longer. They were having so much fun that they did another fuzzy-wuzzy dance!



Then it was time to go home.
"I can't wait to play again soon," said Daniel.
"And now you know. . . ." Dr. Platypus sang:
"Wherever you go, you can find something you know to help you feel better!"
Jodi and Daniel hugged.

"Thanks for coming with me to play at Jodi's house today," said Daniel. "Ugga Mugga!"

Wherever you go, you can find something you know!

Daniel is invited to play at Jodi's house after school. At first, Daniel feels a little nervous . . . but then Daniel finds things he knows to make himself feel better and learns that new experiences can be fun!
